Siblings: placement, dilemmas, challenges and themes

THEME

The decisions we make around siblings are likely to throw up some of the toughest dilemmas we face in family placement work. How do we decide whether children can safely remain together or whether we should look for separate placements? Is our decision making resource led or child led?

This workshop will consider the available research and allow us to think about how to shape our practice to ensure we take account of all the key factors involved. It is suitable for child care social workers as well as family placement social workers and will allow for the sharing of ideas and good practice across agencies.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

This AFA Scotland workshop will enable participants to:

- Consider what research tells us around sibling placements;
- Discuss attitudes, views and practice towards sibling groups in your agency;
- Think about whether there is a way of working with sibling groups which promotes their relationships;
- Consider the various dilemmas you face in practice.
