As AFA Scotland is currently delivering all workshops online there will be two dates for your diary; the first is the substantive workshop and the second is a follow-up session which focuses on specific areas that the group raise on the day. We have found this model of delivery allows for a more complete and reflective approach to training and attending both will maximise your learning opportunity.

THEME

This workshop will look at the co-ordination of adoption placements and will consider good practice when children are moving to permanent foster placements, how children and young people can be helped to successfully move and, the perspectives of the different people involved in transitions.

It will look at common pitfalls and dilemmas and be able to share good practice with the opportunity to consider the model devised by the University of East Anglia and think about how this model can be adapted to work in our own area.

This workshop is suitable for Social Workers who are new to moving children on and also as a refresher course for those who are keen to think about different facets of this complex work. It will also be suitable for children's Social Workers who are keen to learn more about good practice in settling children in permanent placements.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

This workshop will enable participants to:

- Consider how children can be helped to make a move to permanent placement;
- Think about the perspectives of the different people involved in the process of a child/children moving to adoption;
- Share both good practice from other areas and to think about common pitfalls;
- Know where to look for further information to build on good practice.
