

Keyworkers who support children, young people and parents/carers:

How have you experienced COVID-19?

Can you help us by taking part in a survey about your experiences?

WHO IS DOING THE RESEARCH?

A team of researchers at the University of Stirling's Centre for Child Wellbeing and Protection are conducting the research. They are led by Prof Jane Callaghan

The research is funded by the Chief Scientist's Office, Scotland

THE FACE19 STUDY

The FACE19 study aims to understand the impact of the coronavirus (COVID-19) outbreak on children and young people, and on their carers or parents. We want to hear from keyworkers who support children, young people, carers and parents to understand how services are changing to meet needs.

What does it involve?

You will complete a questionnaire online that asks about your wellbeing, organisational factors, changes in role, and the kinds of support and help you feel parents, carers, children and young people need, through the pandemic.

The questionnaire is anonymous.

If you want to, you can be entered into a prize draw as a thank you for taking part (£100 in vouchers)

HOW DO I CONTACT YOU?

If you want to know more about the study, or want to talk to our research team, email face19@stir.ac.uk or check our website: <http://face19.stir.ac.uk/>
